Introduction

1. The Applicant makes an application in this matter under section 20ZA of the Landlord and Tenant Act 1985 (as amended) (“the Act”) for dispensation from the consultation requirements imposed by section 20 of the Act.
2. This application relates to the need to carry out the replacement of one of the two hot water communal boilers at 10 Palace Gate, London, W8 5NF (“the property”).
3. Apparently, in September 2016 the maintenance company, Allcool, informed the Applicant’s managing agent, Rendall & Rittner, that one of the communal hot water boilers at the property has a split between two of the flue ways that has resulted in a constant leak. An estimate of £11,828 plus VAT was obtained for the cost of replacing the boiler.
4. A second opinion was obtained by Rendall & Rittner on 29 September 2016, which confirmed the opinion of Allcool that the boiler was beyond economic repair. They also obtained an alternative quote of £9,285 plus VAT for replacing the boiler. Eventually, the boiler stopped working on 18 January 2017 leaving only one boiler to provide heating and hot water.
5. On 1 February 2017, the Tribunal issued Directions and directed the lessees to respond to the application stating whether they objected to it in any way. The Tribunal also directed that this application be determined on the basis of written representations only.
6. No objection to the application has been received from any of the Respondents.

Relevant Law

7. This is set out in the Appendix annexed hereto.

Decision

8. The determination of the application took place on 14 March 2017 without an oral hearing. It was based solely on the statement of case and other documentary evidence filed by the Applicant. No evidence was filed by any of the Respondents.
9. The relevant test to be applied in application such as this has been set out in the Supreme Court decision in Daejan Investments Ltd v Benson & Ors [2013] UKSC 14 where it was held that the purpose of the consultation requirements imposed by section 20 of the Act was to ensure that tenants were protected from paying for inappropriate works or paying more than was appropriate. In other words, a tenant should suffer no prejudice in this way.
10. The Tribunal granted the application the following reasons:

- (a) the fact that each of the leaseholders had been informed of the need to carry out the proposed works and the reasons why at the relevant time.
  - (b) the fact that no leaseholder has objected to the proposed works and appear to support the application.
  - (c) there is a risk that the remaining boiler, which is of similar age to the boiler that has failed, may also fail leaving the lessees without any heating or hot water.
  - (d) importantly, any prejudice to the Respondents would be in the cost of the works and they have the statutory protection of section 19 of the Act, which preserves their right to challenge the estimated or actual costs incurred.
11. The Tribunal, therefore, concluded that the Respondents would not be prejudiced by the failure to consult by the Applicant and the application was granted as sought.
12. It should be noted that in granting this part of the application, the Tribunal does not also find that the scope and estimated or actual cost of the repairs are reasonable. It is open to any of the Respondents to later challenge those matters by making an application under section 27A of the Act should they wish to do so.
