

S E C T. V.

Stellionate.

No 11.

Granting of double rights punished with confiscation of moveables.

1505. *January 15.*The KING against JOHN TELFER.

GIF ony man committand the crime of stellionatus, gevis and makis, willinglie and wittinglie, doubill infestmentis, takkis, assedatiounis, or ony alienatiounis, or dispositiounis of his landis to divers and sindrie persounis, he may be callit at the Kingis instance, and all his moveabill gudis and geir may be confiscat be his hienes for making of the samen.

Fol. Dic. v. 1. p. 233. Balfour, (DOUBLE ALIENATIONS.) No 1. p. 166.

* * * The like was found, 26th April 1513, Adam Kinghorn against John Macalister.

S E C T. VI.

Suicide.

No 12.

1610. *January 30.*SHEARER against STIRLING.

A DECLARATOR being sought of the escheat of a man in Stirling, as alleged having drowned himself;—it was excepted, That the defunct's escheat could not fall by that fact, because he drowned not himself wilfully; but having given a deadly stroke, with a durk, in Stirling, to a man, and, being pursued with drawn swords, by one Lairston, guid-brother to the hurt man, and the Laird of Craignageli, he was so hardly pursued by them, that he was forced, for safety of his life, to take the water of Forth; and so, drowning by accident, his escheat could not fall.

Fol. Dic. v. 1. p. 233. Haddington, MS. v. 2. No 1767.

No 13.

The Lords
refused to sus-tain action of declarator of 1613. *June.*REDPATH against ———.

IN an action of declarator of escheat, pursued at the instance of Robert Redpath, as donatar to the escheat of umquhil Marion Forrester, spouse to William