EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Order)

This Order amends, in relation to England, the Town and Country Planning (General Permitted Development) Order 1995 (“the General Permitted Development Order”).

As a result, none of the Part 1 rights will apply where buildings have become dwellinghouses under the new change of use permitted development rights at Class IA and MB of Part 3 of Schedule 2 (see article 5 of this Order). There are some minor amendments and clarifications to the prior approval procedures in Class A of Part 1. There is also an amendment regarding the measurement of eaves in relation to roof extensions, which reverses the High Court decision in Waltham Forest London Borough Council v Secretary of State for Communities and Local Government [2013] EWHC 2816 (Admin).

Article 4 allows premises which have become registered nurseries under the new and expanded permitted development rights at Class K and MA of Part 3 of Schedule 2 to the General Permitted Development Order (see article 5 of this Order) to build higher fences or walls next to highways, under the minor operations permitted development rights in Part 2 of Schedule 2.

Article 5 introduces into Part 3 of Schedule 2 to the General Permitted Development Order a number of new permitted development rights for change of use, some of which include permission for limited operational development:

- New Class CA allows a building used as a shop to be used as a bank, a building society, a credit union or a friendly society.
- New Class IA allows buildings used as shops or for the provision of financial or professional services to change to residential use.
- Class K is expanded to allow buildings used for a variety of uses to become nurseries.
- New Class MA allows agricultural buildings to become schools or nurseries.
- New Class MB allows agricultural buildings to change to residential use.

Conditions, limitations and restrictions are applied to each of the new rights, and in some cases the prior approval of the local planning authority is required in relation to certain matters.

Article 5 also amends Class M (agricultural change of use), paragraph N (prior approval procedures) and paragraph O (interpretation) of Part 3 to clarify a number of technical or minor matters.

Article 6 prevents developers using existing rights to build or extend agricultural buildings (under Part 6 of Schedule 2 to the General Permitted Development Order) within ten years of having changed the use of an agricultural building under new Class MA or MB of Part 3 of Schedule 2 (see article 5 of this Order).

Article 7 allows premises which have become registered nurseries under the expanded Class K of Part 3 of Schedule 2 to the General Permitted Development Order (see article 5 of this Order) to take advantage of operational development rights for schools under Part 32 of Schedule 2.

Article 8 amends the Town and Country Planning (Development Management Procedure) (England) Order 2010 to clarify that local planning authorities are not required to determine applications for prior approval under Parts 1 and 3 of Schedule 2 to the General Permitted Development

Order within 8 weeks. There is no need to require the local planning authority to determine such applications because failure to determine them within the period specified for prior approval means that development which complies with any other conditions, limitations and restrictions attached to the development in question is authorised by the General Permitted Development Order.
